Casing Pure Back Cover

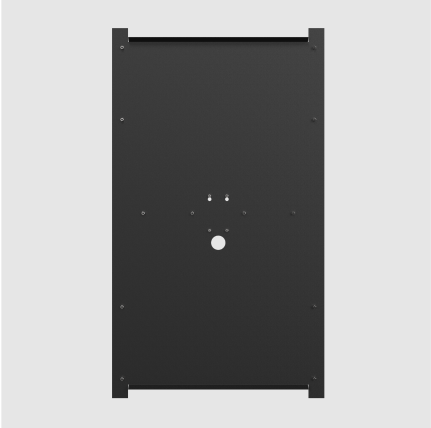

Casing Pure Back Cover provides the interface between Casing Pure Wall and the mounting solution when the casing is installed from the ceiling or on a floor stand.
It also conceals the rear of the display, providing additional protection and restricting access to the display, cables and connection ports.

The back cover is especially useful when the casing is mounted on a pillar that is narrower than the casing itself, ensuring a clean and finished appearance from all angles.

For a ceiling-mounted solution, combine it with Func Ceiling for Casing L/P. For installations with particularly high ceilings, additional extension pipes can be added.

Contact us to learn more about the available floor-supported mounting options.
